

Container Insulation

Insulating a unit stops condensation forming internally, this then makes it suitable for storing paperwork, clothing, furniture and various other items which would be damaged if stored in a standard container.

Insulation available on request

P.O.A